In the Police Court to-day, before Capt. When the Great British Public finds itself thus shamefully chiselled out of huge sums of money with little or no return. it usually wants to kick somebody very hard. Who is there now at hand to transfix with the responsibility of this water swindle? Who will come forward to be kicked?

AT the Magistracy to-day Comr. Hastings, R.N. acting magistrate, had to deal with a very strange case of alleged drugging with intent to kidnap. It appeared that a country boy ran away to sea from his home somewhere in Hunan, and was put on board the Chinese gunboat Anlan to be taken back. While in Hongkong harbour on the 10th inst, he got ashore, and visited some doubtful parts of the town in company with a man who is now charged, with trying to drug him and kidnap him. The case was remanded until to-morrow afternoon.

FROM Saturday's issue of our esteemed evening contemporary it looks almost as if the Sam-suino kerosene tanks were under a cloud since the publication of our article on nitro-glycerine storage in bulk (Hongkong Telegraph, 12th inst.) We would be exceedingly sorry to injure, however unintentionally, any reasonable enterprise; but we certainly do think that as, long as the Government forbids a sampan to take a case of kerozene from a ship in mid-barbour, it is unreasonable to allow such wholesale: danguate exist close to the Cosmopolitan Dock works.

THERE is a paragraph in St. James' Gazette of the 24th ulto. which should prove interesting reading to a few of our "leading" lights. We do not ruproduce it for the simple reasons that its allegations are not altogether true and that we have no desire to be "roped in " for any more libel actions than are absolutely necessary. The men named are not very happily bracketed, for practically-speaking with the prosperity or adversity of one of them go hand in hand the prosperity and adversity of two thirds of this island. And moreover we would bet a guinea to a gooseberry that we could guess the authorsbip of the para, first tiy.

In the days when the gallant old "Steelbacks" were stationed here it became an established custom for the officers to allow their splendid band to play in the Gardens each Sunday evening, and in proof of the appreciation of their action by the public the grounds were on those occasions crowded by thousands of people indulging in the dual enjoyments of music and a stroll through the gardens. After the 58th came the gist, but this being an unco guld and strictly respectable Presbyterian regiment (at least it was supposed to be, though as a matter of fact two-thirds of the rank and file were "Glasgow" Irishmen) these popular entertainments were at once discontinued much to the regret and disappointment of the general public I the officers of the 1st Shropshires would but follow the example of those of the 58th they would be adding materially to their already honestly earned popularity.

INTERPORT SHOOTING MATCH.

The annual interport shooting match for 1803 took place last Saturday afternoon at the rifle butts, Mr. W. Macbean umpiring for Shanghai and Singapore and Inspector Quincey for Hongkong. Good shooting was impossible owing to the wind, which struck across from right to left, and the unfavourable light which made shooting very uncertain—especially at distances of 200 and 500 yards. It will be noticed that the military took no part in the competition, owing to the fact that the magazine rifle; with which they are now supplied, was barred. The totals are as follows:-

LATE TELEGRAMS.

ALLAHABAD, April 1st. According to the latest news from Glight, Colonel Durand was on the roint of starting for Chilas, where the situation was again beginning to look very threatening. In spite of their severe repulse last month, for they cannot have lost less than 250 killed and wounded in their attack upon Chilas fort, the tribesmen were reported to be gathering round our position in great numbers with Kohlstanis and a sprinkling from every tribe in the Indus Valley. Their numbers had swollen to some thousands of men and such an assembly could only signify a determination to make one more concerted attempt to overwhelm the intruding force. It is hoped the attack will be delayed until Colonel Durand has had time to reach Bunji, for their attention would then be distracted and the prospect of being caught in the rear by the relieving force would probably have a numbing effect upon their activity. The situation is full of grounds for anxiety. The force in Chilas, weakened as it has been by the severity of its losses last month, which amount in all to 37 dead and 30 wounded, in spite of the reinforcements which have since reached it, is very small to withstand the horde of enemies who are capable of fighting with such determina-

It is stated that the Khan of Khelat in a fit of anger murdered his Prime Minister and mutilated others of his officials. Troops are held in readiness at Quetta to move to Bagh where the Khan now is, or to Khelat if he should go there, but it is not expected that any action will be taken in the way of occupying his: territories. No explanation is so far forthcoming of this extraordinary outbreak on the part of His Highness. It seems probable he feared

THREATENED DISTURBANCE IN THE KOREAN CAPITAL.

Thus the Yokohama Daily Advertiser of the 7th instant :-An extra issued last night by the Fift Shimpo contains disquicting news from Kores. It is in the form of a telegram received by a Korean in Tokyo, despatched from Soul on the afternoon of April 15th, and to the effect that there were serious signs of a disturbance on the part of the Togaku party. All the foreign residents were making preparations for departure, and some of the foreign representatives were reported to have telegraphed for the presence of a man-of-war. Commenting on the above, the Fiff explains that the Togaku party are a religious sect whose creed is a mixture of Confucianism, Buddhism and See (worship of genii.) They dress in a manuer which distinguishes them from all others. The party was founded forty or fifty years ago, and its adherents are believed to number 200,000; most of whom are extremely fanatic. They appear to be anti-foreign, for some time ago about four thousand of them assembled and presented a petition to the local Governor demanding among other things the expulsion of foreign missionaries and merchants and the dismissal of local officials who oppress the people. By granting one or two minor points the Governor persuaded them to disperse, but they desputched twenty delegates to the Capital to press for the expulsion of foreigners and dismissal of officials. On their arrival at Soul on March 31st these were arrested. which step aroused great excitement among their fellow partizans, who at once flocked to the capital, till as many as 10,000 were assembled. It is believed that the Chokas Kan is still at Jinchuen, and the Yasyama Kan, which left Kobe on Saturday morning, is understood to be > Seven or eight traders travelling between Ningpo and Slang-shau-halon were attacked the other day by about a dozen or fifteen bill brigands in a pass on the frontier of the two districts. Five of the traders who attempted to resist or give the alarm were cut down and severely wounded by the brigands, who took away all the goods belonging to them, even going so far as to strip them of all their clothing, leaving only a single jacket and a pair of cotton trousers to each of their victims. In the prefecture of Ch'ang Chau, Hunan, there is a mountain with a circumference of 30 11 which has been celebrated in local traditions as containing many stones, pebbles and rocks of variegated and precious colours. People who knew, always predicted that the mountain had gold within its bowels; but it was never demonstrated until lately, when a man who had come to the mountain to sacrifice at his ancestral tombs, picked up a curious piece of rock which being broken open revealed over five ounces of the precious metal in ingots varying in weight from a mace to 14 candareen. The news of the "find " getting abroad many people went also to try their luck, a large proportion of whom it is said seturning satisfied with their search. The authorliles having got ear of the thing have. taken possession of the mountain and "promise. cuous " mining has therefore henceforth been interdicted.

The splendour of the Imprial train was quite beyond description, whilst the route traversed by Els Majesty was entirely adorned and decorated in such a way so as to harmonise with the grandeur of the Imperial retinue. Before breakfast the Emperor arrived at the shrine of the delty presiding over agriculture and His Majesty stopped to offer up his thanksgiving and sacrifices. This finished, the stately procession wended its way to the Tai Sheil Tien where the Emperor went through a similar function. On finishing and after the change of dress, the morning repast was served, at the end of which the Emperor proceeded to the field, which is about 3 // in area. Around the field poles were erected on which fluttered innumerable flags and banners of every description and colour, and at the four corners of the field were erected four pavilions where the seeds of wheat and other cereals were placed. In the centre were numbers of magnificently attired courtiers each holding aloft a many-coloured flag, while on the side of the passage were several scores of aged and white-haired farmers. each having in his hand some agricultural implement. On the Emperor finishing his round at the plough the three princes were ordered to go through the performance, and after them nine High courtiers had their turn, after which the performance closed. Having received the greeti, ags of the various officers, the Emperor returned to his palace.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.) .Tamsul, April 21st.

We have had quite a spell of fine weather. lately, and after so much rain this comes as a been to us. As usual there is a great rush of tea hands coming over from Amoy just now, and on account of the opposition between the steamer companies, they are being brought over for anything between twenty and eighty cents. instead of $3, which is the usual charge by the Douglas steamers. The Cass runs steadily between this and Amoy, and is now known as. the Amoy-Tamsul Ferry-boat. The Smith has been kept on the Shanebal line.

A fire was discovered in the lamp room one night on the last trip of the Smith down: I have not heard on what date exactly this occurred, but it was within the last few days. Had it not been for the energetic action taken by Capt. Meries and his officers, another sad fatality would have been added to the list of disastrous fires at sea. The Chinese were panicstricken, and made a rush for the boats; and had the Europeans wavered in the slightest, the company would have lost a valuable steamer. uninsured, to say nothing of the loss of life. The fire was got under in little over half an hour. The lamp room woodwork was all destroyed, besides lamps etc., and the adjacent room more or less damaged. It is estimated that about $200 will put things straight sgain. thought that inferior kerosine oil had somethe part of the lamp-trimmer.

Douglas steamers now go alongside their wharf to land the import cargo. This will be a saving in boat hire, and will prevent cargo being tampered with by the cargo-boat people.

Our harbour looks quite business-like just now, having the following steamers in port:- Formosa, Smith, Cass, Chefoo, Halloong, and Feicheu, and the Yuensang is expected to-day from Foochow with kerosine oil.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

More changes have taken place at Ichang since my last. Mr. Lockburn, the head of the Church of Scotland Mission, has been compelled to relinguish command, owing to the continued ill-health of his wife, the first foreign lady to proceed up the Upper Yangtze for mission work. Her many friends in China will be sorry to hear she is in such a precarious condition as necessitate her immediate return to England. The Rev. W. Deans will have charge meanwhile of this flourishing mission, which the untiring energy and zeal of its late chief has worked up under almost insuperable difficulties. His personality will be much missed among the Chinese in the city, where his well-known philanthropy secured him many friends and admirers among the native Christian. The Catholic Sisters have arrived here from Shangbai and taken up their quarters in the new orphanage which is now finished, and is a I before pointed out-it is on the wrong side of the river. The monastery is also nearing completion, so the priests and Bishop will soon be as comfortably housed as the Sisters.

Mr. Farrel, the new boat officer has arrived, and a new examiner is expected shortly. Mr. Nölting, also, expects to leave shortly for Japan on three months sick leave.

Trade seems to have revived a bit again, or at least settled down to a steady swing after the interpreter to the Legation, who with his family New Year's holldays. Cotton yan has begun to move also, and larger quantities are being shipped to the upper province of Szechuan. Plentiful showers of rain are keeping the crops In splendid condition and the farmers with beaming countenances. The hill and mountain scenery in now looking its very best, and is extremely picturesque and charming; in fact nature has finished her picture, and her colours, designs and finish are, as usual, inimitable.

The Gorges are particularly beautiful just now. The river, which has never been within a couple of feet of zero during this season, seems now to have set in for a steady rise, and the Customs' pontoon, which was grounded in the fall and has laid like an oasis in the desert, on the sandbank, ever since, while the energetic Harbour Master has been thoroughly overhauling and repairing her, will soon be affoat again to relieve the junk that has done for a landing stage in the interim. Channels down river are reported by the captains to be a little more peror began the ceremony of the occasion, pavigable on account of this " coming up of the waters," and the transit of our mails to and is proportionately facilitated. We have also been patronised by several visitors from Hankow and down river ports, who no doubt enjoyed their trips immensely, for the weather has been all that could possibly be desired even by the most fastidious.-N. When I entered the city no landlord would allow me to live in his h tel and I was obliged to leave my horses and luggage in the street, and send to the magistrate, who being away, placed me in a strait, as his underlings would not interfere. I sent then to the Taotai but he would not accept my card so I proceeded in person to the yamen to discuss the rights of the case. The Taotai had formerly been a Wuhu Taotal but he did not show any great courtesy and would neither see me nor exchange cards. The manager of affairs saw it was likely that they would need to put me out if they wanted to get rid of me, so the great man passed word for me to be admitted to an hotel. The reason of not being able to get into an hotel at Noon. was that the officials had secretly warned landlords against allowing Foreigners to stop. The people are very rough and though I received kind treatment from some, a crowd of fellows came to my hotel to beat me but they pummeled the landlord's son instead. The row | THE SCOTTISH ORIENTAL STEAMSHIP caused official interference and I had peace the rest of the time I stopped in the city. I stayed How the fire originated is not known, but it is three days in all. I visited the temple called Lung Hing Sz, or Dragon Prospering Monastery, thing to do with it, coupled with carelessness on where Hung Wu was once a Buddhist monk. before be embarked in the rebellion which led to his gaining the throne. It was ever a flourishing monastery as there are several enormous pot causble of boiling rice for several hundred priests. The road to the monastery leads through the north gate, and beside the gate was a ghastly sight, six heads of decapitated highway-men hanging from the wall and remains of blood on the ground below. From Fungyang Fu I visited Ning Hawai Kwan, the port on the Hwal river about 18 if or 6 miles away. It is a poorly built but thickly settled mart on both sides of the Hwai, which is about a quarter of a mile wide a high water. There is good boating west to Chang Yang Kwan and east to the Grand Canal. The crops have been bad for two or three years and it is not likely that there will be water sufficient this year for rice planting, even if the vegetables are dried out. The Tsing Ming.
